MORE INFORMATION ON NOVEL CORONAVIRUS

Bula! Please find advice regarding novel coronavirus (2019-nCOV) for travelers arriving into Fiji. The virus is a new strain of coronavirus that has not been previously identified in humans. Coronaviruses are a large family of respiratory viruses that can cause diseases ranging from the common cold to the Middle-East Respiratory Syndrome and the Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS).

How can you catch 2019-nCOV? Whilst many details about the virus are yet to be determined, it has been identified that it can spread from human to human. Therefore, it is recommended that individuals reduce their general risk of respiratory infections while travelling in or from affected areas by practicing good hand and cough hygiene.

What are the symptoms? Common signs include respiratory symptoms, fever, cough, shortness of breath, and breathing difficulties. In more severe cases, infection can cause pneumonia, severe acute respiratory syndrome, kidney failure and even death.
